

Since Brussels is the Capital of Europe and provides job-seekers with plenty of opportunities, we have compiled a list of organizations as a starting point for your search. The list is not exhaustive, but we hope that you can take advantage of it.

1. The European Institutions

- European Commission
- European Parliament
- Council of the European Union
- European Data Protection Supervisor
- European Economic and Social Committee
- European Communities Personnel Selection Office

For topic search go to: http://www.europa.eu.int/index_en.htm and it will give you a list of the related bureaus and bodies of the EU dealing with that particular issue.

European organisations- independent of the European Union

- Council of Europe
Not to be confused with the Council of the European Union, the Council of Europe's main task is to strengthen democracy, Human Rights and the rule of law in the area covered by its members. It also aims to enhance the value of Europe's cultural heritage. Of course, the Council of Europe maintains contacts with the European Union.
The Council of Europe has its head office in Strasbourg, but it has a Liaison Office in Brussels.
