Valia

EU Public Affairs Intern

Valia is a Brussels-based boutique agency providing EU public affairs services to organisations championing progressive policies and striving for social change. We specialise in creating impactful advocacy strategies at EU and member state level across a wide range of policy areas, including climate change, global health, hunger, education, disinformation, corporate transparency and development finance.

Director & Founder, Valentina Barbagallo is a politically-savvy advocate with a decade of experience working with government, civil society, international organisations and the private sector at the EU level. Her past experience includes leading The ONE Campaign's EU policy & advocacy team and working in the Ambassador's team at the Italian Permanent Representation to the EU during the Italian Presidency.

Job Description:

The EU Public Affairs Intern will provide support across our areas of interest and client work, with a particular focus on projects in the field of climate change and global health. This is an exciting opportunity to be thrown in at the deep end in a dynamic small team, quickly develop skills across research, writing, advocacy & campaigns, and contribute to drive social impact.

Duration:

3 months +

Application Deadline:

October 6th, 2022

Humanity in Action

Serve the City

Project Assistant

Serve the City is a global movement of volunteers showing kindness in practical ways to people in need. We partner with homeless shelters, refugee centers, orphanages, and other associations, offering help and support. Serve the City creates events that mobilize many volunteers to serve in simple ways – sports, music, arts and crafts, meals, friendship and more. We are the connection between the good intentions and talents of people who could volunteer and a meaningful opportunity to get involved.
